What's your take?

"MCP is going to be such a game changer!"

"I also want to follow up and say the rate negotiation agent seems so so so helpful."

"AI Agents to enhance my teams review capacity, allowing them to partner with our claim teams."

"I'm interested in seeing the path forward for collecting accurate data in an easy-to-use manner, as well as the latest advancements in enhancing the efficiency of any operations team."

"The new faster upgrades for Passport is SO appreciated! A nice surprise for this week and ready for it to rollout"

"Can't wait to see the new UI for invoicing review! Thanks innovation team."

"Just learned about all the cool things coming to the ELM portal and would love to see future iterations on this in future road maps! So incredible to have all the right information easily in one place!"

Sharing ways to turn intelligence into action

Tim Garcia • 1 day ago

Our legal intake is a legalops inbox. With outlook copilot were exploring queries to analyze the types of questions/requests to help (hopefully) built automated answers to the depts FAQs

Amplify helps build knowledge and putting it into action afterwards is key! What nuggets of knowledge are you taking with you as an actionable plan?

Michael Cronin • 22 hours ago

We use data to evaluate our panel counsel to make sure we have the right attorneys handling the right matters.

As Leonelle spoke about in Tuesday, we are using it in our rate review process and it ended up saving the legal ops team 82 workdays worth of time! It coupled with sharepoint approvals and lists are a game changer. Looking forward to WK's new agent as well.

We are creating a Legal
Self Help Center to assist our property teams that has a settlement generator, tender tool, an easy reference guides, etc. ⭐⭐⭐⭐⭐

Tonya Natkins • 22 hours ago

AI is great for unwinding mass amounts of data. Let AI do the heavy lifting so we can partner to better explain the data rather than slicing it up.

More great takes on intelligence in action

"Let AI do the heavy lifting so we can partner to better explain the data rather than slicing it up."

"Establishing trust is key. That's turning intelligence into action!"

"Time saved, sanity saved!"

"We use data to evaluate our panel counsel to make sure we have the right attorneys handling the right matters."

"Amplify helps build knowledge and putting it into action afterwards is key!"

"Practical training is so helpful! I always learn better by doing!"

"We encourage teammates to submit ideas on what they need assistance with so we can prioritize our legal technology roadmap."

"It ended up saving the legal ops team 82 workdays worth of time!"

Shared “aha” moments and key takeaways

Cassandra Springer • 16 hours ago

AI is creating opportunities to redefine how Legal Operations professionals deliver value!

Dawn Hamm • 17 hours ago

AI shrinks the time to an answer. Analysts decide whether it is the right question, the right answer and the right action. (Great topic and panel)

If you don’t share, they won’t know. If you don’t ask, status quo.

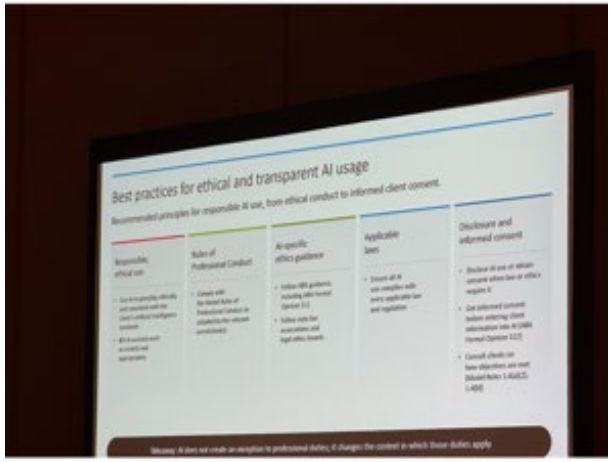

My new motto!

Jacob Bible • 22 hours ago

Loved the quote from the first Project session “Red must become green again. Never deliver bad news without a recommended path forward.” This is hard to remember when things get weird or go wrong on any effort.

Great slide to think about as we start using AI even more internally and as our firms do as well.

You can never have too many "aha" moments!

“AI may be inevitable. Its impact is not.”

“Sometimes you need to slow down in order to speed up.”

“Go live is a launch, not a finish line.”

“Red must become green again. Never deliver bad news without a recommended path forward.”

“Starting projects without assumptions!”

“Pay for the work, not the tool.”

“AI shrinks the time to an answer. Analysts decide whether it is the right question, the right answer and the right action.”

“If AI gives you back 20% of your time tomorrow, what will you do with it that makes you more valuable than you are today?”

Collaboration with a healthy dose of competition

Collaboration (with a side of competition) is key…and fun, too!

"Come for the pecan bars, stay for the conversation!"

"I'm coming for you on the leaderboard!"

"Commenting to keep up with BOTH Kates and their points 😂"

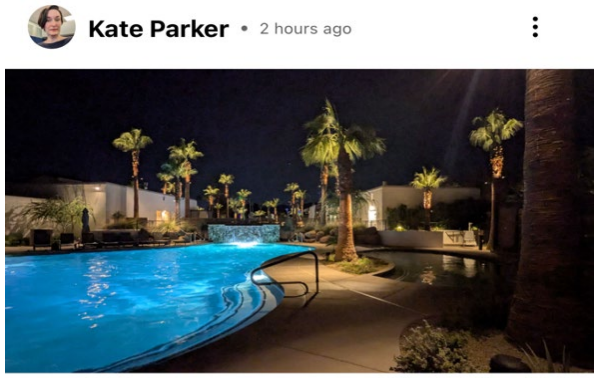

"High stakes! 😱"

"From NY, Canada, UK and Mexico! Being together at this wonderful conference was simply amazing!"

"Great crew!"

"In Jenga, there are no winners, only one loser. Rebecca Runge, M & T Bank.

HIGHLY recommend the heated pool for a quick unwind - I slept like a rock after!

Who can beat an outfit like that?

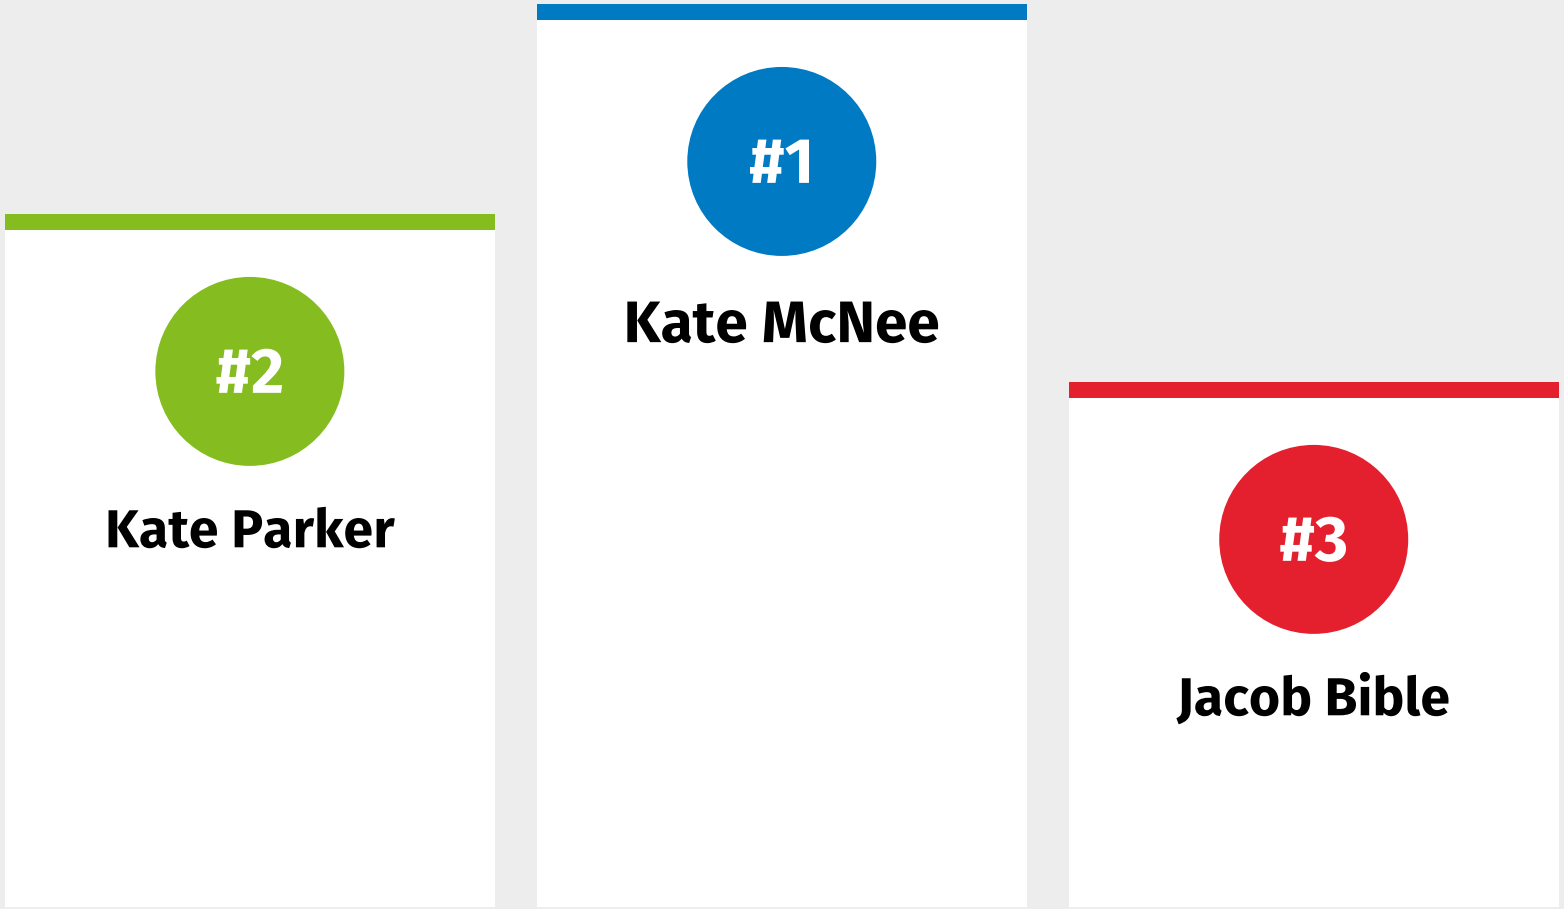

Fun night at Duce!

Williams (minus Leonelle) and the always awesome Stacy 💪
